Decision

Conference to be ranked/tagged as B

Justification

TEI was on the list of conferences to review and in the submission requested to keep a rank of A. However, based on the metrics and after discussions within the 4607/08 committee, it was decided that a rank B is more suitable.

TEI receives a reasonable number of submissions (between 89-136 with 22-40 being published). Data shows that author strength is more on par with C conferences within 4608 and citations are closer to B-ranked conferences. The PC has a third of members being established researchers but has a low median of 9 (h-index). There is no pattern of repeat publishing at TEI by the established researchers, and although some area leaders have published there once, they seem to not publish there regularly. Overall it seems that TEI is more appropriate at B ("good to very good") than A. This is a solid conference in this area of HCI.
