ECAI was provided as an "A" comparator. Overall, a clear consensus that this should remain an A. The various indicators (e.g. chair strength, high quality committee) supported this. Although h5 was somewhat low (h5=18), this was understood to be a consequence of the conference being biennial. The conference is highly regarded. Citation analysis data was not available.

Note: acceptance rate in comparator includes everything - actually acceptance rate is around 25-30%.

Two committee members abstained due to CoI (one had published there recently).
