The submission requested a rerank from National-Russia to B.

The conference has low google h5 (11) and high acceptance rate over the past three years (~50% on average). Importantly, few top people in the area actually seem to publish in the venue. A B ranking could thus not be justified.

A B ranking could thus not be justified. Given that it has been always held in Russia, the committee suggested to retain its current ranking as "National:Russia".
