The data for this conference was provided as retaining it at rank A.

This is a well established medium sized conference (30~45 papers) attended by the top researchers in the field. It has an acceptance rate below 30% in the last 10 years. The median PC index is 17, with 25/52 established researchers. WPP reports 9 of 24 experts published 44 times in this conference in the last 5 years while TPR reports 7 of 19 experts published 55 times in this conference in the last 5 years. While the citation and h5 data show levels below the expectation of an A conference, this can be attributed to its narrow focus. On the other hand, the stringent acceptance rate and participation of top researchers in the PC as well as publishing there confirms its ranking as an A conference.
