The data for this conference was provided as a comparator at rank B. This is a medium size conference with an acceptance rate of around 50+ and an h5 of 14. Many of the PC are fairly inexperienced researchers with about 13 members being established researchers. 4 of these 13 have published in WETICE. It is somewhat concerning that these more established researchers in the PC do not show any pattern of publishing in strong venues. Citation data is around average for the FoR code, but the h-index of authors data shows that a very low percentage of more established researchers are publishing in this venue.

On the basis of this analysis it is considered that this conference would be more appropriately ranked as C.
