Policies

Chair Selection: The chairs are selected each year by a committee composed by the prior chairs and the board of the main sponsor (INSTICC). The list of candidates is composed by the highest h-index members of the program committee, prior keynote speakers and frequent authors, who are familiar with the conference processes. Occasionally, are added to the list of candidates other internationally distinguished researchers, who are proposed by colleagues belonging to the initial list of candidates. Criteria to be actually invited to become conference chair or program chair include the level of expertise and recognition, based on Google Scholar h-index or Scopus h-index, combined with the coverage of the conference topics, based on the candidate list of publications in these indexes as well as in dblp, R&D projects participation, and also, to a lesser extent, gender and international representativeness.

Relationship to similar conferences

Partial ordering of similar conferences in the area, with argument as to where the current venue fits and why:

Please find below the list of conferences ranking as B and close to the ICISSP research areas: Information Security Conference H index 11

International Conference on Information and Communications Security H index: 12

International Conference on network and System Security H index: 14

The ICISSP conference has a higher h-index than the conferences listed above. The chairs of ICISSP are distinguished researchers whose h-index is comparable or higher than the chairs of the conferences listed above. The ICISSP program committee is composed by researchers who are active and well respected internationally, with high h-indexes. The technical program of ICISSP always includes keynote speakers who are internationally distinguished researchers.

Finally, the ICISSP is well integrated in the research and academic network, including some institutional partners that collaborate to increase the quality and visibility of the conference, such as IEEE, Springer, WfMC, and others indicated on its website of the current and previous editions.
