Further details: ISAT is a series of annual computer science scientific conferences. In 2019, we celebrated the 40th anniversary of the conference. We accept and publish the full papers only. Articles are published in separate volumes according to main conference tracks. We have been publishing the proceedings since 2015 by the Springer publishing house in the AISC (Advances in Intelligent Systems and Computing) publishing series. To date, we have released 17 volumes by Springer. Before 2015 we published our proceedings by The Wroclaw University Publishing House, starting with the first ISAT conference in 1991. Electronic versions of ISAT 2011-2019 proceedings are available online: https://isat.pwr.edu.pl/?x=past_events

Policies

Chair Selection: The ISAT conference series has been established by prof. M. Bazewicz. The professor was one of the founders of Polish computer science, especially in the field of computer communication. His main achievements relate to computer network design methods, knowledge representation in information systems, and the development of knowledge social resources. From 2006, the conference was conducted by four colleagues from the Wroclaw University of Technology, Leszek Borzemski, Adam Grzech, Jerzy Swiatek, and Zofia Wilimowska. Prof. Adam Grzech died in 2016. Since then, the next conferences were organized by the local organizing committee chaired alternately by L. Borzemski or Z. Wilimowska. Wroclaw University of Science and Technology (WUST) is the main organizer of ISAT conferences. Therefore, we meet all the policies used by WUST, including RODO (General Data Protection Regulation, GDPR).
