Summary Argument:

The aim of ACIIDS conferences is to provide an internationally respected forum for scientific research in the technologies and applications of intelligent information and database systems, which are very important in the Industry 4.0. Starting in 2009 ACIIDS 2009 conferences have got very good opinions of the Computer Science and Information Technologies communities. The number of participant countries every year is at least 30. This means the very high degree of the internationality of this conference series.
