The submission was provided as a comparator at rank of A, and was reviewed to ascertain if that rank is justified.

This conference has an h5 of only 15, which is low (at least 20) for an A conference, this can be partly explained by the fact that it is a medium conference (20+ papers/year with low acceptance rate of 24%). The median PC index is 11, with 11/46 established researchers, which is much below the threshold of an A conference. The centile data of this conference says that it is 7.6% at top 25th centile and 46% at top 50th centile, and its index25 data says that it is 15% at top 25th centile and 50% at top 50th centile, compared with other A/A* conferences, indicating the quality of this conference is below the ones of other A*/A conferences. Its CCF rank is C, indicating it is appropriate to down grade it to rank B.
