The MobileHCI report has been submitted as a comparator. The original rank is B, which seems to be a low for the high h-5 index for the conference, with is 30. MobileHCI is one of the top twenty venues for Human computer interaction as per Google scholar. Submission numbers and acceptance rates are stable and are at the cusp of A/B. PC and General Chairs both have high h-indexes, and key researchers publish here. In future years, we might expect that MobileHCI is submitted to be considered for a higher rank of A.
